

3rd Annual Meeting of the AWRN

3rd to 4th September, 2018 in Birmingham

ANIMAL WELFARE
RESEARCH
NETWORK

Monday 3rd September: Automatic Monitoring of Animal Welfare

- Bringing together industry and researchers to talk about the latest work on automatic monitoring of animal welfare and funding in the area.
- Confirmed plenary speakers include Marian Stamp Dawkins (University of Oxford) and Tomas Norton (University of Leuven) .
- Opportunities to present automatic monitoring work either in talks, elevator pitches, breakout groups or hosting a stall with an innovation in the field
- Plenty of chances to network, including a drinks reception and evening meal

Tuesday 4th September: Spotlight on Sentience

- The second day of the meeting will consider animal sentience and the implications for policy, research and industry.
- Michael Radford (University of Aberdeen) will give a plenary talk on sentience in policy.
- There will be opportunities to give talks, chair a breakout group or present a poster, precedence will be given to those on the topic of sentience but other work in the field of animal welfare will also be considered.

Abstract Submission is open until Friday 13th July

Further details and the link to abstract submission can be found on <https://awrn.co.uk/event/third-annual-meeting-of-the-awrn/>