

Contents lists available at ScienceDirect

Applied Animal Behaviour Science

journal homepage: www.elsevier.com/locate/applanim

Erratum

Erratum to “Bringing the issue of animal welfare to the public: A biography of Ruth Harrison (1920–2000)” [Appl. Anim. Behav. Sci. 113 (2008) 404–410]

Heleen van de Weerd ^{a,*}, Victoria Sandilands ^b

^a Policy Delivery Group, ADAS UK Ltd., Meden Vale, Mansfield, Nottinghamshire NG20 9PF, UK

^b SAC, West Mains Road, Edinburgh EH9 3JG, UK

The Publisher regrets that Photo legends were omitted from the above paper. The photo legends are now reproduced, as follows. The Publisher apologises for any inconvenience caused.

Photo 1. Ruth Harrison in 1997, holding a mink on a mink farm in Denmark.

Photo 2. (a) The 1961 leaflet (outside) that initiated Ruth's quest to investigate 'factory farming' practices. (b) The 1961 leaflet (inside) that initiated Ruth's quest to investigate 'factory farming' practices.

Photo 3. Ruth always wanted to get all the information possible to make up her mind about issues. Here she is testing a procedure on herself to experience how aversive it might be.

Photo 4. Ruth with Klaus Vestergaard observing a sow in one of the pig park experiments (late 1970s).

DOI of original article: 10.1016/j.applanim.2008.01.014

* Corresponding author. Tel.: +44 1623 844331; fax: +44 1623 844472.

E-mail address: heleen.vandeweerd@adas.co.uk (H. van de Weerd).

0168-1591/$ – see front matter

doi:10.1016/j.applanim.2008.10.003